“This man, God raised on the third day . . .” Today the Church celebrates history's greatest battle victory... the battle between life and death. With the Resurrection of Jesus Christ from the tomb, life was victorious! The strife of sin was over, the battle won, but the war between good and evil continues in our world today. Yet, we trust in the power of Christ's Resurrection. Life has the upper hand! Sin and death have their limits. Jesus Christ crucified has risen from the tomb; He has shifted the balance in favor of life. Jesus offers a great hope, the hope of eternal life for those who have rejected sin and have accepted their risen Lord as the basis of their lives.

O Jesus, We Adore Thee: Having just celebrated the Mass of the Lord's Supper (Holy Thursday), looking forward to First Holy Communion in our parishes this month, and anticipating the great feast of Corpus Christi as well in June, it is good to reflect upon the treasured gift of the Holy Eucharist. To posit belief in the Holy Eucharist, we can look to Sacred Scripture, Church teachings, and Eucharistic reflections by the Saints. But one often overlooked spiritual tool to lead people to belief in the Holy Eucharist is the Eucharistic miracles of the Church. Therefore, we will reflect upon some of these in the coming weeks and months.

Eucharistic Miracles: The Miracle of Lanciano, Italy

In about the year 700, in a monastery named for Saint Longinus, a priest of the Order of Saint Basil was celebrating the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Having suffered from recurring doubts regarding the transubstantiation (the change of the bread and wine into the Body and Blood of Christ at Mass), he had just spoken the solemn words of Consecration when the Host was suddenly changed into a circle of human flesh, and the wine was transformed into visible blood.

Bewildered at first by what he had witnessed, he eventually regained his composure and while weeping joyfully, he spoke to the congregation, “O fortunate witnesses, to whom the blessed God, to confound my unbelief, has wished to reveal Himself to our eyes. Come brethren and marvel at our God, so close to us. Behold the flesh of our most beloved Christ!”

Over the course of centuries, the flesh has remained intact, but the blood of the chalice has divided into five pellets of unequal sizes and irregular shapes. A number of scientific studies for authentication have been performed throughout the centuries, but the last verification in 1970 was the most scientifically complete and concluded what faith had believed for centuries. Performed under strict scientific criteria, the task was assigned to Dr. Odoardo Linoli, a man trained in anatomy, pathology, chemistry, and clinical microscopy.

As a result of microscopic studies, the following facts were ascertained and documented:

- The flesh was identified as striated muscular tissue of the myocardium (heart wall), having no trace whatsoever of any materials or agents used for the preservation of the flesh.
- The blood and flesh were found to be of human origin, emphatically excluding the possibility that it was from any type of animal.
- The blood and the flesh were found to be of the same blood type, AB.
- Proteins in the clotted blood were found to be normally fractionated, with the same percentage ratios as those found in normal fresh blood.
- While the flesh and blood were conserved in receptacles not hermetically sealed, they were not damaged, although they had been exposed to the influence of physical, atmospheric, and biological agents.

Today, the reliquary holding the Eucharistic Miracle of Lanciano is situated in a tabernacle atop the high altar in the Church of Saint Francis of Lanciano. A stairway at the back of the altar enables the pilgrim to approach very close to the tabernacle, which is open in the back, so that he can clearly see the reliquary containing the flesh and blood. The pilgrim will notice that the Host appears rosy in color when it is backlit. As he gazes, he must undoubtedly reflect upon the countless number of other pilgrims who have looked upon this awesome Eucharistic Miracle during its more than 1,300 years of existence.

Christ is Risen, Alleluia!: As We celebrate the Resurrection of our Savior, Jesus Christ, I pray that God may abundantly bless you and your families. Easter is the celebration of our participation in Christ Resurrection, which brings us from the death of sin to the life of grace and the hope of salvation. Such a joyous occasion warrants days of celebration, so the Church in her wisdom gives us the Octave, or eight days of Easter. Each day is considered Easter Sunday so if you are able, it would be a great blessing if you could come to daily Mass as we continue to rejoice in the empty tomb of our Lord. In addition, all the Alleluias you kept in during Lent... let them go and may the church shake with the joyful refrain of Alleluia!

To conclude the week, the Church gives us the beautiful Feast of Divine Mercy. This year the celebration will take place at Sacred Heart Parish, on Sunday afternoon at 3:00 PM. We will pray together the Chaplet of Divine Mercy and then confession will be offered during Eucharistic Adoration, so that you may receive the plenary indulgence associated with this feast. Come to praise God and assist your soul (or someone you love, if you offer the plenary indulgence on their behalf) on the path to salvation in Heaven. For the sake of His sorrowful passion, have mercy on us and on the whole world.

Teacher: "Susy, what does it mean that Jesus rose from the dead?"

Susy: "Six more weeks of Lent?"

Parish News & Events

Thank You: Steubenville youth group would like to thank everyone for their generous support of their fund raisers. It is greatly appreciated.

First Holy Communion: On April 12th, we will have two young men, Hunter Wetzel & Dayton Schafer who are making their First Holy Communion in our parish. The Women of Sacred Heart will be providing a meal in the Parish Center and all are welcome. There will be a free will offering.
