“Jesus said, ‘I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through Me.’”

We all aspire to do something. We all want something. For Christians, we should want to join Jesus in the place He has prepared for us. Life with God should be our motivation. It should be our very life. For Jesus to “be the life” means that we have made Him the whole point of living. In loving and serving Jesus in the poor, in visiting the sick, in visiting the widows and widowers, and in comforting the discouraged, we are imitating the life of Jesus, and we are following His path to eternal life in Heaven.

Eucharistic Miracles, The Miracle of Paris, France

Of all the generals who served King Louis XIV of France, General Turenne was considered the bravest by the king and was the most respected member of his court.

Turenne, however, was a Calvinist Protestant and held many prejudices against the Catholic Church, especially the doctrine of the Real Presence of Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament, which seemed to him to be too incredible to believe. He was known to have said, “Were I to be convinced of the Real Presence of Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament, I would prostrate myself in the dust and would adore Him incessantly.”

Despite Turenne’s obstinacy, the local bishop, Bishop Bossuet, continued to discuss the doctrine with him; the two met for this purpose in the Louvre, the palace which today is used for an art gallery. During one of those meetings, fire was discovered in one of the rooms which held several works of art by the great masters of Italy and France. With the blaze threatening to destroy these works of art, Turenne at once came to the scene and proceeded to direct the men in their effort to save them. Every effort was exerted to control the fire, but all the measures were in vain.

The bishop, seeing the immensity of the fire and the imminent danger, is said to have followed a divine impulse. With all haste, he made for the chapel, removed the ciborium containing the Blessed Sacrament, and carried it to the opposite end of the room, where the fire was out of control. After walking through the clouds of smoke, he approached the flames and pronounced a Benediction. At once, the flames began to die down until at last they were extinguished. The workers were struck by the majesty of the miracle and fell to their knees, intoning the sacred hymn, the Te Deum (You are God, we praise You). Turenne likewise was amazed and fell to his knees to adore the Blessed Sacrament, which he now acknowledged with newfound faith. From the time of the miracle until the time of his death, Turenne was known to have loved and practiced the Catholic faith and to have adored with all humility and devotion the Redeemer, present in the Sacrament of the altar.

Strengthen Your Catholic Faith: Cor Christi (“The Heart of Christ”), a spiritual and catechetical institute offered by the Diocese of Bismarck, invites high school students to a living encounter with Jesus and the foundational teachings and practices of the Catholic faith. Take part in an intensive summer experience which allows you to appreciate the splendor and beauty of the Faith. There are two sessions, July 6-10 and July 13-17. To register, you must do so by Friday, May 22nd, and your registration must be accompanied by a letter of recommendation from the pastor. Know that the parish will pay for the entire cost of Cor Christi. If you are interested, please contact Fr. Gary at 701-509-9504.

Let’s Set the Standards a Little Higher: When my thermometer hit almost 86° a few weeks ago, my initial thought was, “Oh no... the dress-down look will soon return to Sunday worship.” You know this look: flip flops or sandals with no socks; short pants; t-shirts; backless dresses; and muscle shirts. Sunday Mass can tend to look a lot like a day on the beach. I am not going to hire fashion police for our parishes, but I ask that you monitor your own apparel for Sunday worship. Please remember that you are in the presence of the Lord of Heaven and Earth and He deserves respect and reverence. Yes, at times the gentle snoring during my homilies may sound like the crashing of waves, but our church is not a beach, so treat it for what it is: the dwelling place of God, which demands great dignity and decorum.

May God Bless You for Your Efforts: Thank you to everyone who helped last Saturday morning with the parish grounds cleanup at Sacred Heart Church. We accomplished a lot within a couple of hours. May God reward you for your loving concern for our church, the dwelling place of God. On Wednesday, May 6th, we will have our parish grounds cleanup at Saint Ann’s Church, following the 6:00 PM Mass that evening. I hope to see you there.

On the Lighter Side, One Wish: A woman was walking along the beach when she stumbled upon an unusual old lamp. She picked it up and cleaned it off, and suddenly a genie appeared. The amazed woman asked if she was going to receive the usual three wishes. The genie said, "Nope... due to inflation, constant downsizing, and fierce global competition, I can only grant you one wish. So, what will it be?" The woman did not hesitate. She said, "I want peace in the Middle East. See this map? I want these countries to stop fighting with each other." The genie looked at the map and exclaimed, "Gadzooks lady! These countries have been at war for thousands of years. I'm good at granting wishes, but not that good. I don't think it can be done. Make another wish." The woman thought for a moment and said, "Well, I have never been able to find the right man. You know, one that is considerate and fun, likes to cook and helps with the house cleaning, gets along with my family, doesn't watch sports all the time, and likes to watch romantic movies. That's what I wish for. . . a good mate." The genie let out a long sigh and said, "Let me see that map."

A Christian Point to Ponder: "May I never forget on my best day that I still need God as desperately as I did on my worst day."
